

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Usage of Website

By using our websites, whether as a registered user or non-registered user, you are indicating that you accept these Terms and Conditions and agree to abide by them.

Accounts are personal to the subscriber and for their sole and non-commercial home use. Passwords and other log on details must not be passed to others. If two or more people log in at the same time with the same details, the account will be automatically inactivated and no refund will be issued. It is your responsibility to keep your details secure. We have the right to take action if this requirement is not adhered to including, but not limited to, immediate termination of your subscription.

We will endeavour to activate your subscription as quickly as possible after you have made payment. Typically, you will have access immediately after making payment. However, in a few situations this may not always be possible and activation may take a few days as we wait for confirmation of your payment from payment gateway provider.

Please do not share, sell or resell your username or password with your colleagues and always remember to log out after you have finished your session especially if you use a public computer.

If you use or attempt to use the service for purposes other than personal, individual revision, including but not limited to copying questions, answers or notes, or attempt to tamper, hack, modify or otherwise use the website in any way that is likely to compromise or corrupt the security or functionality of the service provided by ACEPLAB, your account will be terminated and you will be subject to damages and other penalties, including criminal prosecution where available.

Whilst we will endeavour to ensure that the website availability is not interrupted, access may be restricted from time to time to allow for site maintenance, upgrades or other factors beyond our control, e.g DDoS attacks. The website has been optimised for use on a PC running Windows and phones. Use of other equipment to access the site may result in restricted functionality. Any technical problems with your computer are your responsibility and no refunds will be issued for problems with your computer preventing you from using the site.

External links

For the convenience of subscribers the ACEPLAB website contains links to external sites. The inclusion of a link does not imply endorsement or approval of the site or its contents which is independent of ACEPLAB and over which we have no control. As such we can accept no responsibility for the contents or any loss or damages that may result from using these external sites.
